

Hands On Atlanta

Fifteen SGI-USA members from the Marietta Chapter in Atlanta joined forces with seven Convergys employees, who were already established with Hands On Atlanta as a contributing sponsor. (Convergys is one of Atlanta's larger employers.) HOA is a nonprofit organization that co-partners with other community-based organizations and Atlanta's public schools addressing critical needs throughout the city.

This SGI-USA/Convergys team was one of the hundreds of volunteer groups that participated in countless community projects throughout the Atlanta area on Oct. 3 — making this the world's largest community serv-a-thon. The SGI-USA/Convergys group chose to help the A.D. Williams Elementary School, located on the northwest side of Atlanta, in the Bowen Homes Project community.
