

A QUEST FOR HUMAN DIPLOMACY

SGI President Ikeda has resolved to spend as much time as possible traveling to various countries in the interest of peace and international goodwill. Toward that end, he has made more than 100 overseas trips. Traveling to different countries gives him the opportunity to engage in what he calls “human diplomacy,” by which he means face-to-face, heart-to-heart communication. Wherever he goes, he talks not only with political and cultural leaders but with as many everyday people as possible. Fundamentally, he believes that the most important people are “ordinary” people.
