

SINGAPORE ARTIST HOLDS FIRST SOLO EXHIBITION IN THE UNITED STATES

The Museum of Tolerance, the Singapore Soka Association (SGI-Singapore) and other organizations cosponsored the “Liu Kang at 90: A Celebration of Singapore’s Treasured Artist” exhibition in May and June. The highlight of this first solo showing of Mr. Kang’s art in the United States was a portion of his work Chop Suey, illustrations of the Japanese army’s atrocious conduct in Malaya and Singapore during World War II. Mr. Kang, who attended the May 11 opening of the exhibition at the Museum of Tolerance in Los Angeles, was a witness to these atrocities. He has decided to share his experiences through art to make a powerful antiwar statement.
